Roche AIDS Drug Wins US Nod

Roche Holding AG expects its revolutionary HIV/AIDS drug Fuzeon to win European approval within weeks after US regulators backed the medicine on March 13, 2003, stated William Burns, the head of Roche's drugs division.

Fuzeon, which the Swiss drugs and diagnostics group developed with Trimeris Inc., is the first in a new class of drugs known as fusion inhibitors designed for the ranks of people resistant to other AIDS medications. Unlike existing drugs that work inside the cell, Fuzeon blocks HIV from entering healthy human immune cells.
